

Ms. C is a role model with great ideas and a big personality. She has inspired my class and I to break into our dramatic side and feel comfortable while doing it. We have formed a bond with her over this past semester and that is probably because she is very likable. You should definitely hire Ms. C because she is a unique and inspirational person with a valuable opinion.

Ms. C has helped us grow and learn much about the dramatic world. For example in class she has been teaching us about ancient Greek tragedies. We are doing our own Greek tragedy by making a script and masks (such as the ancient Greeks did) and reading roles.

Out of all of our student teachers Ms. C is by far my favorite. I think her opinion about acting is incredible saying that I love acting myself.

When you are working with a group of kids it can be way more complicated than working with adults, but Ms. C has handled us kids very well. She understands us and always puts us first which makes a good and responsible human being. She can adapt to changes easily and is open to other opinions about things anytime.

Ms. C has been an inspirational role model and friend. My whole class and I adore her. She has made a great impression on my grade and changed us for the better. She has high recommendations from my teachers, my grade, and I. We love Ms. C so much. Over all I know that Ms. C can do amazing things I think you should give her a chance to do so.
